The House «zum Kropf» in the course of time

From the mayor's quarters to spice shop

The history of the stately house at In Gassen 16 reaches back to the Middle Ages. First mention of the house name "zum Kropf" was in 1444.

The house "zum Kropf" was a private residence until the end of the nineteenth century. Its prime location made it a favorite place to live among distinguished families and citizens. Until 1462 it belonged to the city gunsmith, Lienhart. At the end of the eighteenth century, the house was occupied by the mayor himself, Johann Heinrich Kilchsperger (1785–1798).
